

U. S. SENATOR CUTTING DIES IN PLANE CRASH

DEMOCRATIC 'PERFIDY' IS G. O. P. THEME

"Aroused America" is Called to "Grass Roots" Parley

Chicago, May 6.—(AP)—Republican leaders from nine mid-western states today set June 10 and 11 for the "grass roots" party conference at Springfield, Ill., in a call for an "aroused America" to give vigorous battle to the Roosevelt "New Deal."

"The battle is not only to end the depression," said the call, "but also to preserve our very institutions."

Charging the Roosevelt administration had created conditions "so intolerable and so serious as to be beyond mere partisan politics," the committee laid out for the conference a two-fold task of formulating plans for rejuvenating the Republican party nationally and proposing a "constructive" program for the 1936 presidential campaign.

Roosevelt was charged with having plunged the nation "into a series of fantastic and experimental schemes, the result of which has been to retard recovery and mire the country more deeply into despair."

No Personal Ambitions. The conference at the shrine of Lincoln, the committee said, will have nothing to do with candidacies "nor the personal ambitions of any men or set of men."

Selection of conference delegates was authorized in a manner to be prescribed by the signers of the call from the respective states, "provided they are 'unselfish Republicans' who are 'in accord with the purpose and principles of this announcement.'"

"It is especially understood," the call said, "that there shall be no place in this conference for the selfish reactionary; neither shall there be a place for the equally selfish radical or self-seeking demagogue."

"Political Perfidy."

The Republican leaders declared every major promise made by President Roosevelt had been "broken and shamelessly repudiated" and said his record "presents such political perfidy as to shock the conscience and rock the very foundations of democracy."

"The Democratic party, as it has been known by its history, policies and declarations has ceased to exist," said the announcement. "It has completely and abjectly ignored its obligations and abdicated in favor of Roosevelt and his retainers."

"Through Mr. Roosevelt's confusing, contradictory and uncertain policies," it continued, "fear and a sense of insecurity have destroyed the confidence of the people and our mighty forces capable of producing recovery are bound and fettered. As proof of these statements, we have but to refer to the fact that our relief rolls have grown to the tremendous total of over 20,000,000 of our people."

Hits "Servile Congress."

"In admission of his failure, we find Mr. Roosevelt demanding, and obtaining, from a servile congress the gigantic sum of $4,880,000,000 to be spent by him and his experimental advisers largely for undisclosed purposes."

"Never before has king, potentate of emperor been clothed with such vast and dangerous power. No other president has ever desired such unrestrained authority."

The call was issued by a committee of National Committee members and state chairmen and vice-chairmen from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Wisconsin, headed by Harrison E. Spangler, Iowa National Committee Members.

The members of the conference committee include: Illinois: Justus L. Johnson, Aurora; Noble B. Judah, Chicago; Edward A. Hayes, Decatur; Mary Silvis, Rock Island; Frank L. Smith, Dwight.

Indiana: George A. Ball, Muncie; W. G. Irwin, Columbus; Felix McWhirter, Indianapolis; Miss Dorothy Cunningham, Indianapolis.

Iowa: Harrison E. Spangler, Cedar Rapids; Miss Martha McClure, Mt. Pleasant; P. H. Frank, Waterloo; Mrs. George W. Prichard, Ottawa.

Missouri: G. W. Dalton, Poplar Bluff; Mrs. Myrl E. Remley, Orrick; Grace Semple Burlington, St. Louis; E. B. Clements, Macon.

Not Alarmed

Springfield, Ill., May 6.—(AP)—Highway police officials today said no extraordinary precautions are being taken to guard the State House against the possibility of demonstrations during the relief crisis.

L. M. Taylor, superintendent of the state police, said the usual small group of guards are on duty at the State House and the Executive Mansion. He denied published reports (not carried by The Associated Press) that police had been called in from other districts.

A small group of pickets, carrying banners protesting against an increased sales tax, paraded through Springfield Saturday.

At Auburn, several hundred members of the Illinois Workers Alliance yesterday voted to march to Springfield tomorrow to petition the legislature to open relief stations with surplus treasury funds.

Extra policemen have been placed on duty several times in the past when relief measures were being considered by the legislature. "trouble threatens, it would be possible to call in reinforcements tomorrow."

SECOND ANNUAL MUSIC FESTIVAL

Woman's Club to Sponsor Educational Project on Friday Evening

Much interest is being shown in the second annual Music Festival undertaken by the Woman's Club of Dixon, of which Mrs. Florence Plummer White is president. This festival is given to foster interest in the teachers of music and their pupils in this locality.

Besides giving the various organizations of the city the opportunity of contributing toward the program, the committee has conducted a contest in the various lines of music, the winners to be given ribbons and the privilege of appearing on the program.

Such a contest was held last Thursday afternoon, the competent and qualified judges being, Miss Beatrice Schabacker and Miss Anna Walton of the Mendelssohn Club of Rockford, who were secured through Mrs. John Ralston, a member of the committee.

Mrs. Harry Edward, chairman of the music committee for the second year, has been working diligently on the program for several months, and with the able assistance of Mrs. (Continued on Page 2)

VAESSEN BROS. GARAGE ENTER-ED ON SUNDAY

The garage operated by the Vaessen brothers in Sublette was entered and robbed during early Sunday morning, it was reported to Sheriff Ward Miller yesterday, who went to Sublette to investigate. A door in the rear of the garage was partly open when the place was opened Sunday morning. The thieves evidently were deliberate in their operations and preferred cash to the variety of articles in the garage.

Two slot machines were pried open and emptied of their contents. The safe in the office had not been locked and the doors were opened and the cash box which contained about $35 in change was emptied. Going into the garage, the thieves raised the hood of a car and removed parts of an automobile radio set. Before departing they emptied a show case of its cigarette supply but paid no heed to several cartons on a shelf in another part of the office. The proprietors estimated that in all about $65 in silver had been taken and about six cartons of cigarettes in addition to the car radio.

Superintendent of Gas Service of I. N. U. Company Owes Life to Fire Department's Pulmotor and Firemen

The inhalator owned by the city and kept at the fire department headquarters played an important part in saving the life of Leonard G. Adams, who was overcome by furnace gas fumes at his home, 321 East Fellows street, Sunday morning. Mr. Adams, who is superintendent of the gas department of the Illinois Northern Utilities Company, had gone to the basement of his home to attend the furnace.

Some time later when Mrs. Adams failed to hear him moving about the basement, went to investigate. She discovered him unconscious on the floor and immediately summoned a physician. Following examination, the physician ordered the resuscitator from the fire department, two of the firemen answering the call and operating the device with excellent results.

Mr. Adams, who had collapsed on the floor near the furnace, revived and was taken to his room. Gas fumes from the furnace filled the basement and caused a paralysis of the vocal cords which rendered him speechless until last evening. He was reported much improved this noon and expects to be out in a few days.

LEE AMONG 15 COUNTIES NOW WITHOUT FUND

143,000 Families Have Been "Thrown On Own" in State Today

Chicago, May 6.—(AP)—With relief stations closed and treasuries exhausted, families of unemployed persons in 15 Illinois counties have reached the point of actual suffering, county relief officials today reported to the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission.

The counties in which relief clients were reported face to face with hunger and privation were: Alexander, Bureau, Calhoun, Jefferson, Greene, Jersey, LaSalle, McDonough, Marion, Marshall, Monroe, Scott, Shelby and Stephenson.

Reports to commission headquarters did not disclose the nature of the extent of the suffering in the various counties but indicated that local and private charities were unable to cope with the crisis caused by the shutting off of Federal relief.

Commission officials estimated that nine out of every ten counties in the state had exhausted their commission-supplied funds. A survey indicated, however, that many of these counties were supplying a measure of relief to the neediest cases.

Most of the suffering was by families who had been subsisting on work relief checks, the last of which went out last week.

In 84 out of the state's 101 down-state counties, a total of 143,000 relief families were thrown on their own resources with the cessation of relief activities.

In Cook county, where 600,000 persons have been dependent upon relief, county administrator Leo M. Lyons asserted that no one will actually go hungry for another week, at least.

The $120,000 obtained from a bond issue voted by the county can be stretched until next Monday, he said. All of the money has been spent, but there is a seven-day supply of food on hand, he pointed.

Food orders in Cook county have been going out at the rate of 4,500 a day. Families formerly on work relief are being taken care of as well as those on direct relief, Lyons said.

At the office of Howard O. Hunter, regional director for the FERA, it was declared that no way could be found under the law to supply Federal funds directly to Cook county. County officials had hoped that the FERA would assist the county in voting the $120,000 bond issue.

Arthur Andersen, accountant named by Governor Henry Horner to conduct an inquiry into the state commission's disbursement of funds today made a preliminary survey of the commission's books. He declared that he would immediately withdraw if any attempt were made to exert political pressure upon his investigation.

Hero Was Victim

Pittsburgh, May 6.—(AP)—Harvey Bolton, TWA pilot, who lost his life in an airplane crash in Missouri today, was the hero of a flight which narrowly averted disaster for 14 passengers here five months ago.

Aviators recalled today that Bolton landed safely at the city-county airport with all aboard in a crippled ship. Fifty miles west of Pittsburgh on the night of December 5, last, Bolton heard one of the motors making a grinding noise. He shut off the motor and wireless the airport that he was coming in with only one motor.

Descending from an altitude of 9,000 feet, the plane's right propeller dropped off on the runway as it was landing and a tire blew out. Bolton kept the plane under control and no one was hurt.

CAPITAL MOURNS

Washington, May 6.—(AP)—Shocked by the death of Senator Bronson Cutting of New Mexico in a Missouri airplane accident, the senate heard tributes to him today and forthwith adjourned in honor to his memory. The house planned to adjourn also in mid-afternoon.

Mrs. Oliva Peyton Cutting, mother of the senator, was attending the national cathedral services in honor of the silver jubilee of King George when friends arrived at their home to tell her of the tragedy. The first indefinite reports had been withheld from her.

Grief was evident at the White House, too. President Roosevelt counted the New Mexican among his personal friends.

The youthful looking Senator Hatch, a former governor of New Mexico, rose and eloquently announced "with deep regret a terrible accident has occurred in which my

LEGISLATURE IS BUCKLING DOWN TO REAL LABOR

Abandons 3 - Day - Week in Effort to Solve Relief Problem

Springfield, Ill., May 6.—(AP)—The deadlocked legislature went off the three-day-week today as the Horner administration made its third attempt to overcome Republican house opposition to the financing of relief by a higher sales tax.

Members of the House of Representatives came back to the state house this afternoon, to consider at 4 P. M. technical amendments to the bills by which Horner and his Democratic followers seek to end the relief financing crisis by increasing the sales tax to three percent and placing a similar tax on utilities.

It was the first time since the 59th general assembly convened in January that a Monday session was held. With sine die adjournment less than two months away, both houses were ready to keep longer hours.

The Republican joint-critics of the retail sales tax and the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission were not expected to oppose the amendments on the afternoon calendar, saving their fire for tomorrow when the revenue program must get 14 additional votes if it passes with the emergency majority of 102.

In its present shape, the tax increase bills are technically faulty in that they provide that they should go into effect May 1, the day Democratic leaders failed to pass them and suspended the sales tax roll call at 88 to 55.

The amendment to be offered provides that the bills are to become effective soon after being passed and signed by the governor. If adopted and passed tomorrow, the bills would have to go back to the senate for another vote on concurrence in the amendments.

If and when the relief controversy can be settled, the legislature apparently is ready to settle down to hard work in an effort to clean up its heavy calendar.

The senate, for the first time this session, is to meet Tuesday morning. Since January, the house has met on Tuesday mornings and the senate on Tuesday afternoons, with both houses customarily quitting work by noon Thursdays.

Night and Friday sessions probably will be ordered soon.

Introduced at this sessions have been 1,354 bills, 413 in the senate and 941 in the house, in addition to dozens of resolutions.

Former Pastor of Dixon Christian Church Died Suddenly After Stroke

Rev. H. H. Peters of Bloomington, pastor of the Dixon Christian church for two years following his graduation from Eureka college, in 1906, and well known to many of this city, died suddenly at Casey, Ill., Sunday afternoon, a few hours after addressing the Christian church congregation there, during which he suffered a stroke of paralysis. For the past nineteen years Rev. Peters has been secretary of the Illinois State Christian Missionary Society. After leaving Dixon, he had a pastorate in Paris, Ill., and later became field secretary for Eureka college.

Praetz was fined $25 and costs which was paid.

'National Zoo' YOUNG KILLER OF 'AMERICAN TRAGEDY' DIES

San Francisco, May 6.—(AP)—Creation of economic and social security through "regimentation" today bore the arraignment of former President Herbert Hoover that "our people are not ready to be turned into a national zoo."

Hoover in an address before the California Conference of Social Work last night assailed any attempt to make the government the major source of security efforts.

"You may produce an efficient economic or governmental unit by a manufactured regimented, imposed environment," he asserted, but "you will not produce a free individual x x x in short, you will not produce an American x x x."

"Our people are not ready to be turned into a national zoo, our citizens classified, labeled and directed by a form of self approved keepers."

Both he and his remarks were given hearty applause by approximately 2000 delegates gathered at their opening session to hear him.

RETIREMENT ACT IS HELD INVALID

'New Deal' Legislation Affecting Railroads Unconstitutional

Washington, May 6.—In another of its famous five to four decisions, the supreme court today declared unconstitutional the railway retirement law affecting more than a million employees.

"The act was beyond the powers of congress," said Justice Roberts who delivered the high court's opinion.

He assailed sections of the law pensioning employees who have voluntarily left the carriers' service; those who have been discharged for dishonesty and for gross negligence and those who have been automatically retired.

Chief Justice Hughes, who delivered the opinion upholding the government in the famous gold-clause cases, was in the minority this time. He wrote the dissenting opinion and was joined by Justices Brandeis, Stone and Cardozo.

Aligned with Justice Roberts were Justices Van Devanter, McReynolds, Sutherland and Butler.

May Affect Other Suits. Justice Roberts' words that the act was "invalid as violative of due process" of law and was "not in purpose or in effect a regulation of commerce" were immediately

EVERYDAY LIVING.

MIND MUSCLES.

By Joseph Fort Newton,
UR habits, said William James, are the muscles of the mind, and they can be built up like the muscles of the body, if we take time and pains to do it. And in the same way, by active and wise use.

Like the muscles of the body, habits of mind grow stronger by exercise, or they shrivel and waste away with neglect. The more they are used, the more powerful they become, and that is our cue. If a man has a bad mental habit, the thing to do is not to attack it directly, but to build up a good habit to put in its place; and right ways of thinking are far more important than bulging biceps.

James gives four steps in the forming of a new habit. First, start it at once, with as strong an initiative as possible, and bring every power we have to enforce it. Take a pledge to do it.

Second, do not allow any exception until the new habit is firmly fixed. As in all habits, repetition is the secret until the new habit has made a path in the mind. As always, he puts it picturesquely.

"Each lapse is like letting fall a ball of string you are winding. A single slip undoes more than a great many turns will wind up again. It will not do to say, this one time will not count."

Third, having started to form a new habit to offset an old one, seize every chance to act upon it. Make it more than a mental resolution—do not let any impulse in its behalf be left without action.

Fourth, do something every day for no other reason than that you do not want to do it, just to keep alive in you "the faculty of effort." Else we may become lazy, flabby and the old habit will win.

By following these rules, based upon common sense, we can build up ways of thinking and attitudes of mind, which will hold in time of need, and when the test comes help us to stand against evil.

As we think in our hearts, so we are. Faith, friendship, hope, happiness are largely habits of the mind—soul muscles which we can develop and make strong if we honestly set about to do it.

News of the Dixon Girl Scouts

The meeting Tuesday opened by singing Girl Scout songs. The period for patrol corners was followed by a game in which the Girl Scout laws were used. The remaining time was spent in writing invitations to the mothers for the meeting Saturday at the Christian Church for information concerning Camp Hickory Hill, the Girl Scout Camp. Some very unique invitations were created by the girls.

The members of the troop enjoyed a hike last Saturday in Lowell Park. A truck, furnished by A. N. Boyd conveyed the group to the entrance. The time before noon was spent in gathering wood for fires, getting sticks for roasting, weenies, and tramping about. A treasure hunt was a feature of the afternoon, the treasure being marshmallows which were toasted later. Several girls passed their fire-building test during the day. A happy surprise was the treat of ice cream cups, brought out by Mrs. Hardy, Mrs. Lloyd Elfine and Mrs.

Kingdom Missionary At W. Fisher Home

Mrs. Will Fisher entertained the members of the Missionary Society of the Kingdom church Thursday.

At noon a delicious picnic dinner was served with chicken and biscuit furnished by the hostess. It had been decided at the last meeting to piece a quilt so several of the members brought their quilt blocks to sew. The meeting was called to order and opened with roll call and reading of the minutes by the secretary. The leaflet contest was presented with Dorothy Morris and Lucia Gates as captains of the two sides. Mrs. Owen Morris volunteered to have the May meeting at her home. The song "Throw Out the Life Line" was sung after which Mrs. Anna Stevens read the scripture and offered prayer. Several clippings were read followed by the current events given by Dorothy Morris. Mrs. Wm. Morris gave the second chapter of the study book, which proved very interesting and educational.

The visiting committee reported six calls made during the month. Prayer partner service and a song closed the afternoon meeting.

Everyone thanked the hostess for a most enjoyable day, and departed for their homes.

Dinner Honored Mr. Webb from the South

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shelton delightfully entertained with a dinner Sunday in honor of her uncle, Orvin W. Webb, whom she had not seen for twenty years. Mr. Webb is a brother of E. D. Webb, former Dixon barber. Mr. Webb left Illinois twenty years ago and is a resident of Atlanta, Ga., and Dallas, Texas, where he is engaged in the confectionery manufacturing business. There were present thirty-four nieces and nephews and grand nieces and nephews. Mr. Webb will remain for a brief visit with relatives before returning to Dallas.

HOW TO PREVENT "Tired Business Men" FROM GETTING THAT WAY!

New Gently Regulative Bread Made with Two Natural Laxative Food Elements Promotes Regularity Without Harmful Drugs!

Most men are victims of unnatural living habits today. Constant strain . . . worry . . . too little rest . . . faulty diet . . . these are the things that have made constipation the most common of all complaints! This results in the quick spread of poisons through the system . . . followed by coated tongue, bad breath, upset nerves, tired muscles or more serious disorders.

When you notice these symptoms in some one you love, look out! Prompt steps are necessary to restore normal, regular conditions. PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD offers a way out. It is naturally laxative because it is made of two natural laxative food elements . . . flaked wheat and concentrated prune juice.

GIVE HIM THIS 14-DAY TEST

Have him eat a slice or two of PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD with every meal. It doesn't stimulate laxative action by irritation because it isn't "spiked" with unwholesome cathartic drugs. After eating PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD every day for a two-week period, you'll be delighted at the results. The organic acids and sugars from the fruit juice will tone up the system, restore regular health habits and make cathartics unnecessary. Order PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD from your grocer and start him off on the right path—today!

THE NATURAL REMEDY FOR CONSTIPATION

is the regular use of such natural laxative or regulative foods as PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD which removes the cause of the trouble and restores natural conditions. Cathartic drugs, or foods "spiked" with cathartics never cure constipation. Authorities agree that their use is often the cause of this dreaded disorder—and always an aggravation.

DIME CHAIN IS REPLICA OF A GREATER FOLLY
These chain letters whereby honest souls make a few dimes for themselves at the price of overloading the postal system are a good deal like the kind of prosperity we had before 1929, when you stop to think about it.
In each case the idea is a good one as long as you can keep the ball rolling. Collapse comes only when the supply of suckers runs out.
Look at the dime thing, for instance.
You get a letter with five names on it. You add your name to the bottom, scratch off the top name, and mail copies to five friends; and then you send a dime to the man whose name you scratch off. If the chain goes on unbroken, in the course of time several thousand people are sending you dimes; they, in turn, are recompensed by several times that many thousand other people, who in turn get dimes from an even larger number of perfect strangers, and so on.

Theoretically, there is no exact limit to the distance the thing could be carried. All that is necessary is that on any given date the number of new suckers being tapped is greater than the number of dimes in the mail. As long as it keeps on going upward, nobody can lose. Perhaps it is unkind to see in all this a parallel to the frenzied prosperity of the boom years. But you can see it if you look for it, just the same.

In the booming 'twenties, our industrial production was keyed to a steadily rising mass of debts. Part of this came in installment-plan buying at home; the greater part came from foreign trade.

Each year we sold a greater quantity of goods abroad. Since we bought abroad much less than we sold, the customers overseas couldn't pay us. So—we lent them the money, flooding the domestic market with all manner of foreign bond issues.

The amount of sales and loans kept on going up, year after year. As long as the loans went up just a shade faster than the sales, everything was lovely.

But the whole business—like the dime letter chain—was due to crash the moment this progression was checked. The check finally came, the crash followed—and ever since we have been rubbing our heads and wondering what happened to us.

So we get back, again, to this dime letter business. It's a dizzy way to make money, to be sure; but there is a precedent for it. Individuals are simply trying, in a small way, what the nation as a whole tried in a big way a few years ago. The result, in each case, is a foregone conclusion.

MORAL ISSUE IN WAR SOON IS AN ILLUSION
You cannot talk very long about our chances for staying out of this "next war" that everybody seems to be expecting without ringing in at least a few echoes from the last one.

What happened between 1914, when the European war started, and 1917, when we finally got into it, is not entirely clear even today. But it is about all we have to go on when we try to forecast the future, and it has a way of hornning in on all our arguments.

One is reminded of it by some speeches made recently before the Foreign Policy Association in New York. There was a round table discussion of the war-and-peace problem, and a lawyer named Frederic R. Coudert expressed himself as follows:

"I disagree with the assumption that war is a most terrible thing. The people of this country will not be satisfied to preach neutrality rights, to keep their flag off the high seas. They will want to know if there is a moral question involved in the war.

"They will prefer to take part in the war if it is against a brutal aggressor. They are 120,000,000 energetic idealists who will not shut themselves up lest they be drawn into a war, but will take sides undeterred by fear of war."

With the statement that we will want to know if there is a moral question involved in the next war there can be little quarrel. The only trouble with it is that you so often can't be sure about a thing like that until some 20 years afterward.

If you will cast your mind back to 1917, you will recall that we had not the slightest doubt, at that moment that there was a tremendous moral issue at stake. Freedom, democracy, civilization itself—they all hung in the balance, and if we did not go forth to fight for them they were apt to be lost.

So, as you remember, we did go forth to fight, and the cause with which we sided won as overwhelming a victory as the history of warfare records.

So what? So freedom, democracy, and all the rest were preserved and made forever secure? Just where—in Italy, in Germany, in Russia, in Poland, in Yugoslavia—or where?

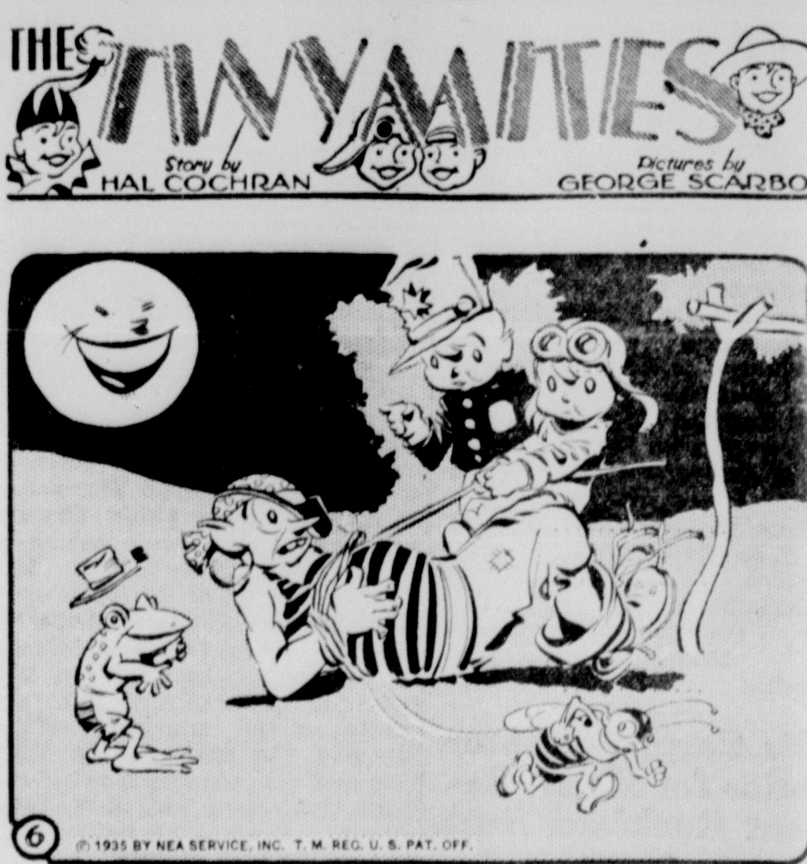

The bright moral issues of 1917 don't look as clear now as they once looked. We may be 120,000,000 energetic idealists, but we might be better off today if we had been just a bunch of suspicious cynics.

And that's the trouble. Go around looking for moral issues in the midst of a great war and you lay yourself wide open to the sale of a gold brick.

The one great lesson of 1917 is that if we are to protect our neutrality we must start long before the shooting actually begins.

The fact is that our constitutional form of government is as the Titanic was when it was struck by a submerged floe.—James M. Beck.

The crisis under which North America is laboring is partly a crisis of depopulation.—Mussolini.

Soon after Scouty crawled from sight, wee Dotty woke up, full of fright. About the mean old pirate she had had an awful dream.
She saw that all was safe and sound, and then got up and walked around. Then to herself, she said, "I'm mighty glad I didn't scream. I'm thinking, now, it would be best if I would wake up all the rest. The pirate spanked us, in my dream, and that's what he might do."

"While he's asleep, we all could run and hide, before the spanking's done. I'm going to do my best to save the rest, before I'm through."

Then, quietly, she woke the bunch, and told them of her happy hunch. Wee Windy smiled and promptly said, "I have a better plan."

"We'll tie the pirate good and tight, and then I know we'll be all right. We can't let Scouty come back here alone, to face this man." "Gee, you are right," said Golly. "We would be as mean as mean can be to run away. Let's get some vines and do the tying now."

"Keep just as quiet as you can, or we will wake the mean old man, and then, as sure as anything, he'll start an awful row."

They gathered vines that were real strong, and then it didn't take them long to wrap them 'round the pirate's hands. "His feet are next," cried one.

"Be sure and tie them so they'll stay in place, and he can't break away. To watch his face, when he wakes up, is going to be real fun." Just as they finished with their work, the pirate woke and gave a jerk. "Hey! Who tied me?" he shouted. "Someone's going to get a whack."

"Oh, no," snapped Coppy. "Right now you're tied. There's naught that you can do. Wee Scouty's gone, and you will stay tied up till he comes back."

PROUD PROCESSION ACROSS LONDON INAUGURATES JUBILEE

Royal Coach Quits Buckingham Palace for St. Paul's

"Great Gray City" is Stage for Regal Spectacle

At 11:30 A. M. (London time) today a scene such as this, rich in medieval traditions, was to be enacted at Buckingham Palace. King George and Queen Mary, attended by coachmen and footmen in gay livery, were to ride out of the palace grounds in the glittering royal coach, their subjects crowded every vantage point.

Through cheering streets they were to be driven toward the towering dome of St. Paul's, to take part in thanksgiving services.

Inaugurating the precisely planned splendor that will mark every formal event in the two-month celebration of King George's Silver Jubilee is the spectacular royal procession across the colorful London district shown in this new aerial picture—from Buckingham Palace (1) to St. Paul's Cathedral (4). Later events of the jubilee will take place in Westminster Abbey (2) and the Houses of Parliament (3) on the banks of the historic Thames.

Stories in STAMPS
By I. S. Klein

The FIRST POSTAGE STAMP

BESIDES beginning the silver jubilee of King George's accession to the throne, May 6 marks the 95th anniversary of the issuance of the first prepaid postage stamp, the famous "Penny Black" of Great Britain. On that day, in 1840, a crude black stamp showing the portrait of Queen Victoria was sold for postage in England.

Not until 1845 did postage stamps appear in the United States, and these were only of local origin. It was two years later that the federal government began issuing United States postage. The "Penny Black" is one of the most popular items among stamp collectors because of its historic value. Many varieties in various colors and their shades have appeared, all with the head of Queen Victoria, and their values range all the way from a few cents to several hundred dollars. SUN DOGS

Sun dogs, technically known as parhelia, appear when sunlight shines through a thin cloud composed of ice crystals floating in the atmosphere. They are the result of the refraction of the solar rays by these crystals. Sun dogs may appear at all times of the year because even in the warmest weather the temperature in the upper atmosphere is below freezing.

DROVE SIDE-WHEELER

When the New Orleans, the first steamboat on the Ohio river reached Cincinnati from Pittsburgh in 1811, several prominent persons boarded the vessel and old the captain Nicholas J. Roosevelt. "Your boat may go down to New Orleans but it's absurd to think that it can ever come up the river, moving against the current." To show the throng of spectators what his side wheeler could do, Captain Roosevelt ran the boat up the river for several miles, and then continued on his journey to New Orleans.

THE NAME NORDIC

The name Nordic refers to the Scandinavian and Teutonic peoples of northern Europe and races derived from them. As used by anthropologists such as Deniker it means the blond, long-headed type found there. The Nordic theory involves a belief in the superiority of his type.

PROTEIN IN SOY BEANS

Soy beans contain the only complete protein found in the vegetable kingdom and are usually listed along with eggs, milk and meat as a source of this necessary food principle, says Miss Gertrude E. Conant, nutritionist of the University of Arkansas. Millions of people in the Orient, particularly the Japanese, utilize soy beans more than any other food, substituting them for bread, meat and potatoes. Soy beans are rich in fat, contain a high percentage of calcium, and also are extremely good sources of pellagra preventive vitamin.

USE FOR CORN SYRUP

As the name indicates, corn syrup is manufactured from corn. Nearly one-half of the total output of corn syrup in the United States is used annually by confectioners in the manufacture of candy.

"THEY DON'T GET YOUR WIND" ATHLETES SAY —

THE mild cigarette the athletes smoke is the mild cigarette for YOU!

A cigarette so mild you can smoke all you want—that's what athletes say about Camels.

Gene Sarazen says: "Playing as much as I do—I have to keep in condition. I smoke Camels steadily. They are so mild they never get my 'wind'—never upset my nerves."

Other athletes back him up... "I smoke all the Camels I want, and keep in top condition," says Mel Ott, slugger of the New York Giants... Georgia Coleman, Olympic diver, says: "Camels don't cut down on my 'wind'..." Bill Miller, oarsman; Jim Lancaster, N.Y.U.'s 1934 basketball captain; John Skillman, pro squash racquets champion—hundreds of sports stars smoke Camels regularly and report that Camels never get their "wind" or nerves.

What this mildness means to you!...It means you can smoke Camels all you want! Athletes have made this discovery: Camel's costlier tobaccos are so mild, they can smoke all they please, without disturbing their "wind" or nerves.

SO MILD YOU CAN SMOKE ALL YOU WANT!

Camels COSTLIER TOBACCOS!

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

Daylight Saving Time Is Advocated by Dixon High Student Council Saturday

Youths Complete Day of Civic Activity in Council Meet

The high school student council, responsible for Dixon's city government Saturday, in council assembled Saturday night presented two new ordinances, heard complaints, and reported on the condition of Dixon before a large crowd of interested spectators at the City Hall.

Climaxing a day of activity and a project in city government of several weeks duration, the student council gathered in the City Hall chambers at 8 P. M. and was called to order by Mayor Rita Tofte.

City Clerk Lyle Snader read the minutes of the Friday night meeting when the council was inaugurated for its one day tenure of office. Glendene Howe then delivered her treasurer's report, and Commissioner Planagan moved the report be accepted as read. The council unanimously voted acceptance.

Frances Naylor submitted the library report which was accepted by the council upon motion of Commissioner Gronewald. The same procedure was taken with Louise Hintz hospital report, which was moved and accepted by Commissioner Habecker, the vote of the council being unanimously in favor of acceptance. Arthur Carnes, chairman of the airport commission, reported on the the Dixon airport and Commissioner Planagan moved for acceptance of this report which the council endorsed.

Parks Improvement
Paul Lambert in presenting the parks board report also subscribed a plan he had devised for improvement of Haymarket Square illustrating his plan with an architectural design. He explained funds for its improvement, expected to amount to $149.00, could be taken from the new Federal relief appropriation, most of the money to be spent on labor and a small amount on material. Commissioner Buchner moved for acceptance of the report, and the council endorsed the motion.

Ted Lerner, health officer, in his report, reminded the council of the smoke nuisance ordinance and recommended enforcement. Commissioner Gronewald moved for acceptance of this suggestion and the council complied. Charles Marshall presented a comprehensive report on police activities of the day, the highlights of which were a survey of stop sign violations over a period of one hour. On one stop street he reported 182 violations out of 340 autos that approached a stop street sign. The report was accepted. Commissioner Planagan submitted a report on the condition of the streets which was approved by the council.

For Daylight Time
Mayor Rita Tofte introduced the proposed ordinances framed in the Friday night meeting advocating daylight saving for Dixon and Commissioner Buchner again pleaded for its approval from the standpoint of health. Commissioner Planagan opposed the ordinance claiming it "would ruin health to arise so early." Commissioner Habecker supported Commissioner Planagan, a vote was taken and the ordinance was passed on the deciding vote, cast by Mayor Tofte when the council divided 2 to 2.

A proposed ordinance for creation of an improvement board framed by Commissioner Habecker was defeated 4 to 1 by the council. Commissioner Buchner attacked it on the grounds the activities of such a board normally fall under the responsibility of the park board. Bids were received from the Rinks and Hunter Companies for the painting of the Dixon arch at a cost of approximately $16. This together with a report of Commissioner Buchner on fire hazards, and a suggestion by Commissioner Gronewald to revoke obsolete ordinances, was referred to future city council.

Named Dog Catcher
Robert Evans, citizen, objected to the throwing of liquor bottles around city streets and demanded council action. The council voted immediate action to curb the nuisance. Leslie Marshall, citizen, complained of destruction of property by dogs, demanding immediate action by the council. An ordinance framed in 1932 defining dogs as a nuisance unless licensed, prompted a motion by Commissioner Buchner, that D. V. Austin be appointed dog catcher to seize unlicensed dogs in the city of Dixon. The motion received unanimous endorsement by the council and D. C. Austin was appointed dog catcher.

Mayor Rita Tofte then thanked Mayor William V. Slothower for his cooperation with the student officials and returned the gavel, after which Mayor Slothower thanked the students for their appreciation, expressed a hope for their continued interest in city government, and adjourned a meeting.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS

Mayor Rita Tofte in assuming her duties in office, delivered the following address, which formally opened the student session of the council:

Mister Mayor, Fellow Commissioners and friends—This week, as most of you probably know is National Youth week. The main purpose of National Youth week is to awaken the interest of the public in its boys and girls by giving emphasis to the various phases of youth work and youth problems during the week. This year the date of our civics project, Saturday, May 4, was especially arranged so as to take place during youth week.

This civics project is a splendid opportunity for the students. It arouses in them an active interest in governmental affairs. When it is time for them to vote they will vote wisely because they know definitely what each official is responsible for.

It also arouses the confidence of the students, preparatory for "their reign of one day." The regular city officials explain all the different positions and duties of the city officers and give the student so much power they really believe they are a very important part of the community.

The interest and support manifested by our city officials has been most gratifying. All of them have been most generous in giving us their time.

Not only do the students become better informed about the city government, but also their parents and grandparents, become interested due to their children's enthusiasm.

We students are citizens of our city as well as of the United States even though we cannot vote until we are 21. The law protects us and our community furnishes us with conveniences and comforts. This protection and these conveniences place upon us, as citizens, certain duties.

We must cooperate with the policemen, firemen, street cleaners, public librarians and all other city officials. The aim of education is citizenship. It is surprising and disappointing to learn how many people are ill-informed about the function and mechanism of the government. Many of them believe the people rule. The people could rule if they had been taught how, but now many of them do not even run themselves. They are run by what are known as political machines. Our school teach us the value of selecting good men for positions and the necessity for a good education.

Benjamin Rush, a distinguished American statesman, once said "Education is the sole instrument whereby government may be improved." Let our youth be taught legislation and a supreme regard for general welfare.

PARK COMMISSION

By Paul Lambert

The Dixon Park Commission has several great problems. Most of them lasting problems, and each of which could be quickly and easily obliterated if the people using the parks would show a little more interest and exercise a bit more civic minded care in the use of these parks.

Chief among these problems is the damage done to our parks by people who are either very careless or else willfully destructive. It is really surprising how many ways people can damage parks, ways which would be absolutely unforgivable in regard to any private property. Sport fans, for instance, abuse their privileges on the tennis courts, by holding the courts for limitless periods when others are waiting to play. Also, the girls wear high heels on the courts, which is forbidden. Lowell park is another of our parks that is continually being damaged. Trash and refuse is scattered around and the grass and shrubs are torn up and destroyed quite needlessly. Drivers run their cars over large rocks and other obstructions so that they may park their cars on the wrong side of the shelters and cabins. Large posts, set in concrete, have been torn out in some inexplicable way and for the same petty reason.

Another serious problem is the apparent supreme indifference displayed by the citizens in regard to the establishment and development of parks which would add greatly to the beauty and general welfare of the community. New projects and improvements are proposed again but the commission receives no response. And yet, were these projects gone ahead with and completed, these same indifferent people would perhaps be the first ones to get out and avoid themselves the use of these parks. If this type of person, as well as those who do not now enjoy the use of our parks, could be interested in some of the new projects set forth, we would soon have an even more improved system of parks.

Dixon, at the present time has approximately sixteen parks either in full completion or in the course of construction or final development. There are also several very worthy projects, beautiful and practical, about to be brought up. If the people of Dixon really have a desire to have a good system of parks maintained, they may show their zeal now by displaying an interest in these measures and backing them in these measures and backing them until they are realized for our community.

Address by Student Commissioner of Public Property

I feel greatly honored to be one of the members of the Civics Class who represent our school here this evening and I think the students of D. H. S. are very fortunate in having this experience once each year. After the election returns last Friday, I realized how Frances Perkins must have felt when she was appointed to her office as Secretary of Labor, and I know tonight my job as commissioner of this city is every bit as important to me as Janet Rankins and Mrs. Ferguson's were to them.

In size, I may not be able to measure up to Mr. Lenox but I hope when I turn over this department to him again tomorrow night that he will be able to find the arch still on Galena avenue, the parking space down by the river and that the cemetery will still be up in the east part of town.

One of my duties with which I have just become acquainted is the appointment of a night watchman at the parking place along the river.

The buying of fuel for the heating of the City Hall is another duty of my office. Bids are usually submitted by several local dealers and action taken later on.

The care of the two bridges as well as the arch are also in my department. At present we are receiving bids from local paint dealers for painting the arch.

The building on Galena and River street owned by the city is now rented to the Chamber of Commerce and the bus line. This property is also under my department. Not until this week did I realize the importance of having the proper person as care-taker of the cemetery. He should not only be familiar with the lay out of the grounds but also able to read the plans so that under no circumstances could mistakes be made.

I believe with these duties ahead of me I will have a pretty fine day tomorrow.

Miss Scott, Mr. Lindell and the city council, have been very helpful to us this past week while we were seeking information about the workings of our City Government. I hope, when we go out of office tomorrow night that we will be remembered for the efficient and courteous manner in which we have handled each department.

"Dangerous Intersections"

By Bob Underwood

There are two intersections in Dixon which are probably more dangerous than the rest added together. These are at Galena avenue and Seventh street and College avenue and First street. Something should be done about both of these to lessen the danger.

For some time there was a "stop and go" signal at Galena and Seventh street. This was at least effective in that it controlled traffic and the motorist knew when to go. When this was done away with, there was a stop sign only on the north and south side of Seventh street. This left the Lincoln Highway as the right-of-way and designated which car had the right of passing.

At present there are stop signs on all four corners. If they were placed there to relieve the danger, they do not very well accomplish their objective. When cars coming from all four directions, at the same time, there is very apt to be confusion because neither car knows when he has the right to proceed.

The intersection at First street and College avenue is also dangerous. Although it is in a residence district the motorists travel at a high rate of speed on First street. The vision of motorists coming north on College is obstructed by a beer tavern. Also the patrons of the tavern are allowed to park their cars right up to the corner. This adds to the confusion. There is no stop sign to stop the motorist coming either way. Added to this confusion is the presence of the shoe factory. Workers coming from the factory at noon provide a regular traffic jam at this intersection. As yet there have been no fatal accidents, but those that have occurred should warrant the attention of the city's government. Erection of a stop sign for motorists coming on to the boulevard would help a great deal.

PARK IMPROVEMENTS

My Verna Hubbell

To the Members of the Dixon Park Commission:

The improvements that have been undertaken by the Dixon Park Commission within the past several years are worthy of commendation. Many very ugly places have been made into beautiful park areas. The citizens of Dixon sincerely appreciate these improvements.

Now that so much has been done to provide beauty spots where one may find peace and a source of outlet for his innermost emotion, do you not think that something could be done for the children?

It is the natural right of every child to have a place outside the home where he may find happiness and companionship with other children. Surely the streets and alleys are not the places where children may meet with the better types of companions. The ideas and ideals which a child forms during early life will be the foundation for his actions in adult life. Should not every child have the right to have the best type of environment possible in order to be a good citizen?

If public parks and playgrounds were provided the children who have a finer opportunity to form the more desirable ideas. If something were supplied for the youngster to do they would not be busying their heads to think of something for themselves. If they did think of a new form of amusement it would be of a higher type because of the better environment furnished by the playground.

Other than the formation of ideals and friendships there is the question of safety involved also. When children play on the streets they are constantly in danger of being hurt. Playgrounds would eliminate this danger and would give the driving public much greater peace of mind.

If you are planning any more park improvements will you not give the children some consideration? Do you not think it is the duty of every adult to give the children opportunity to be the very best citizens that it is possible for them to be?

It is called the State Primary Correspondence School of Brisbane, Australia and its pupils, who live in such widely separated parts as Northern Territory, New Guinea, Papua, and the Solomon Islands, receive their education by post.

FOREIGN LEGIONS

The term "foreign legions" has long been used for irregular volunteer corps of foreign sympathizers raised by nations or states at war. Many such legions existed during the wars of independence of the South American countries.

Culinary Jingles

by Marcia Camp

You may not be able
To love like Clark Gable,
Or vamp like Jean Harlow,
But you CAN make a marlow.

SMOOTH as velvet, more delicious than ambrosia, and as delicate as love's young dream—that's chocolate-marlow. It belongs, furthermore, to the "can't fail" family of marshmallow frozen desserts, so you can be sure not only of the admiration of your family and guests but of their marlow yourself! Of course a mechanical refrigerator is not essential. Use a freezer, without agitating, or a mold, covered and sealed in an ice salt mixture.

CHOCOLATE MARLOW

1 cup cocoa or 1 square vanilla chocolate
1 cup milk
16 marshmallows
1 1/2 tablespoons vanilla
Few grains salt
1/2 pint cream
Stiffly beaten

Put cocoa into the top of a double boiler and add milk gradually, stirring to form a smooth paste. Add marshmallows and steam over hot water until thoroughly melted, blend to a smooth mixture with milk and cocoa. Add vanilla and salt, and cool. When cold and slightly stiffened combine with the stiffly beaten cream. Pour into containers and freeze without stirring.

If chocolate is used instead of cocoa, put marshmallows into the pan first, pour milk over them and add the chocolate, shaved finely. Steam until both marshmallows and chocolate are melted, and proceed as with cocoa.

The sixteen marshmallows called for in this recipe are the entire contents of one of the four pack-ettes contained in the new triple-sealed economy pound packages of campfire marshmallows. Each of the pack-ettes is sealed separately, so when you open another quarter-pound you will find its contents as fresh as the day they left the factory. Try keeping a package or two always on hand, and see how often they are useful for combining with a fruit salad, or topping a baked pudding, or serving with hot beverages, or handing out to a hungry child just home from school.

Independents Triumph in Game With Amboy at Dixon Airport Sunday Afternoon

Invaders Completed Brace of Double Plays in Game

Bunching a pair of runs in the first, third and seventh innings, the Dixon Independents turned back Amboy's baseball team 6 to 3 on the Airport diamond Sunday afternoon.

Although Amboy completed two double plays in the fourth and fifth innings, they failed to penetrate behind the tight outfielding of the local crew for any real gains via the bat. The climax of Amboy's hitting efforts occurred in the first of the eighth when Michel, centerfielder, stepped to the plate with two men out, and walloped a triple bagger into deep right field.

Dixon's first two tallies came in the first stanza. Kuhn knocked a clean single off Gilroy, Amboy hurler, on his first swing of the game for Dixon. Kehrt, next in line, was struck by a pitched ball, and was walked. Kays popped a short fly to Leake, Amboy shortstop, and Shires Miller struck out, but Rink's single drove home both runners. Malcahey then struck out as Gilroy retired the side.

The next pair of runs for the locals were counted in the third inning, both as the result of two base hits. Kehrt slammed a two bagger into center field and Kays singled Shires Miller, third man at the plate drove them home with a two base rap, before Gilroy whiffed both Rink and Malcahey.

The last two Dixon scores in the seventh were counted by McCannahan, subbing for Evans, and Emmert, subbing for Kuhn. McCannahan was walked and Emmert singled. A wild throw by Catcher McCaffrey of Amboy, who attempted to halt Emmert from stealing second, allowed McCannahan to slip home. A moment later, a throw from Flach to Powers on first, which retired Kehrt, allowed Emmert to score.

Amboy's fast double plays both were quick throws from Leake to Meade and thence to Powers on first. The first double put out retired George Carlson and Evans and the second tagged Kuhn and Kehrt. McCaffrey, Meade and Michael scored Amboy's three points in which a single, a two bagger and a triple were in part responsible.

STATE HOSPITAL DIVIDES WITH PANTHER NINE

Patients Win And Employees Lose Saturday Afternoon

Dixon State Hospital baseball teams divided a double-header with the Dixon Panthers, Saturday, at the hospital diamond, the Employees losing 15 to 14, and the Patients, winning 10 to 5.

Against the Employees the Panthers won on a five run rally in the last of the seventh inning. The game was featured by the fine fielding of Jim Burke, Wilamowski, Kesseling and Fane. Both pitchers, Frost and Reynolds were very wild. The Employees launched an eight run attack in the first frame but the Panthers retaliated with six runs in the second. Although the Employees led 14 to 10 in the ninth, the Panthers bunched five more runs into their half of the ninth for the victory. In this assault Jim Burke of the Panthers slammed a two bagger. Cold weather caused many errors.

The Patients proved much tougher for the invading nine. After trailing 2 to 1 in the first inning, the Hospital crew rapped in two runs and thereafter never relinquished the lead.

Szesnick knocked a home run, and Walls, McGrew and Szesnick nicked Whitehead for two base hits. Boone of the Patients struck out 13 men in six frames, allowing only five hits after entering the box in the third inning.

Omaha, Son of Gallant Fox, Wins Kentucky Derby

Omaha, from the stable of William Woodward, New York banker, winning the 61st Kentucky Derby by a length and a half from Roman Soldier, with Whiskola third. Nellie Flag, filly who was the favorite in the mobuels, is fourth. Omaha covered the mile and a quarter in 2:05, and Jockey Saunders said he did not use the whip. 50,000 filled the stands at Churchill Downs to see the classic.

ROCKFORD WAS GATEWAY MEET TRACK VICTOR

Dixon Places Only in Javelin Throw Saturday

Rockford high school, led by fleet Bob Packard who captured first place in three events, won the fifteenth annual Gateway Classic at Clinton, Iowa Saturday afternoon, in which nearly thirty schools and 300 athletes were entered. Dixon placed in only one event winning two points on Underwood's javelin toss which netted him a fourth position.

The Rockford Rams placed in all but five events. These were the mile run, the discus throw, the pole vault, and both sections of the 880 yard run. Packard won his first in the 220 yard dash, 100 yard dash and the broad jump. The scores of the meet were as follows: Rockford, 41½; York high of Elmhurst, 37½; Davenport, Ia., 37; Clinton, 28½; Glenbard high of Glenn Ellyn, 20; Carl Schurz high of Chicago, 14; Deerfield-Shields high of Highland Park, 14; Muscatine, Ia., 12½; Savanna, 12; Woodstock, 5; Sterling, 4; Libertyville, 4; Lyons, 3; Palatine, 3; Dixon, 2; Dubuque, Ia., 2; Mt. Carroll, 1; Chadwick, De Witt, Ia., 1; Endicott, Erie, Tam-pico, Lanark, Maplewood, Mo., St. Ambrose of Davenport, failed to place. West high of Green Bay, Wis., failed to appear when snow blocked the roads in that state. The Badgers were expected to offer one of the most serious threats of the meet.

Few Records Fall — Cold weather prevented wholesale smashing of the Gateway Classic records of former years. Only two new marks were chalked up. Denny of Rockford shattered the 1931 120 yard high hurdles record of 15.7 with a dash of 15.6 seconds. The former mark was counted by Abrahams of Froebel high, Gary, Ind. In the pole vault, Marwyn of Woodstock soared over the bar at 12 feet 4 inches extending by three inches the 2 feet 1 7/8 flight of Scheibel Davenport ace in 1934.

A feature of the afternoon races was the exhibition mile run between Glenn Cunningham, referee of the event, and Harold Longman, former Mt. Morris star who won a Gateway Classic mile run a few years ago. Cunningham, running with his sweat clothes on, defeated Longman by two yards in a three lap race. The time for the abbreviated mile was 3:11 minutes. At no time was the champion extended, but Longman was inspired and trailed by only a few yards the entire event. Watching Cunningham in the stands were Carl Nelson and Jimmy Owens, other track world's champions. Owens recently sprinted 100 yards in 9.5 seconds at the Drake Relays, and then going immediately to the broad jumping path leaped 26 feet to with ¼ of an inch of a new world record.

High Jump Stirring — One of the most stirring events of the entire Classic was the high jump, usually a tame department. Diminutive Edward Nicholson, 5 ft. 7 inches tall, kept pace with his lanky rivals to the 5 ft 11 in. bar, four inches over his own head before succumbing T. Leonas, Carl Schurz jack rabbit attained victory at the 6 foot mark.

Classic were Klein, Rebuck, Underwood, McMillon, Tappanier, Stitzel, Thompson. Dixon entered a relay team in the mile and 880 yard relays, and Underwood in the javelin throw. McMillon was eliminated from the high and low hurdles events in the semi-finals of the qualifying rounds after surviving the opening preliminaries by a 120 yard high hurdle run in 16.8, a new individual record for the Purple and White youth. Accompanying the Dixon team were Coaches A. C. Bowers, L. E. Sharpe and a Dixon Evening Telegraph reporter.

The large crowd in the stadium was served by a clear loudspeaker which could be heard from all parts of the commodious Coan Field of Clinton high school. A Western Union Telegraph extension service was maintained on the grounds, and several newspapers including the Associated Press sent in typewritten reports direct from the field. The entire Classic including preliminaries lasted the entire day from 9 A. M. to 5:15 P. M., before the final victory of Carl Schurz high school in the high jump. The summaries with the winners: 120 yard high hurdles — Denny, Rockford, time 15.6 sec. (record). 100 yard dash — Packard, Rockford, time 10.1 sec. Mile run — Canavan, Savanna, time 4 min. 45 sec. Shot put — Irving, Deerfield-Shields, distance 47 feet, 11½ in. OMAHA POISED FOR COLORFUL RACING CAREER

Derby Victory Parallels That of His Great Sire Gallant Fox

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor.
New York, May 6.—(AP)—The racing future appears unquestionably bright for Omaha—hailed today as a thoroughbred "block off the old chip"—but it remains to be seen whether the big chestnut son of Gallant Fox can duplicate further the championship or money-winning exploits of his famous father.

There's a striking parallel so far in the records of the latest and one of the most colorful father-and-son combinations in the history of the American turf. Much the way his daddy did in 1930, Omaha came off the far turn at Churchill Downs to register a smashing victory Saturday in the 61st Kentucky Derby and prove much the best in a field of 18.

Ridden by the great Earl Sander, the Fox won the Derby by two lengths from Gallant Knight on a slow track in the slow time of 2:07 3-5 for the mile and a quarter. Omaha, with 20-year-old Willie Saunders of Boeman, Mont., in the saddle, withstood the challenge of the black bomber, Roman Soldier, to win handily by a length and a half in 2:05 on a fast track.

Spring to a Career.
For Gallant Fox, an inferior juvenile, the Kentucky classic was the springboard to a career as a three-year-old champion, with aggregate earnings of $328,165, a figure that stands fourth in the all-time ranking list.

Omaha, no shakes as a two-year-old himself but now fully developed for a brilliant three-year-old campaign, will seek the triple crown by running in the Preakness at Pimlico Saturday and training subsequently for the Belmont stakes, a mile-and-a-half race that should see the son of the Fox at his best.

Bred to go the route, there never has been any question about Omaha's finishing powers, but up to the Derby the colt had nearly always been the victim of early mishaps.

There's not much chance for Omaha to surpass his sire's money-winning record. Times have changed since the Fox was bagging some of the country's richest three-year-old stakes. William Woodward, New York banker who bred both horses, collected $50,725 as the winner's net share when Sande booted Gallant Fox home in 1930. Omaha won $39,525.

The value of other big stakes also has dropped since the boom times, although the trend again is upward.

Omaha is not likely to find many of his Derby rivals in the field at Pimlico Saturday, though such good three-year-olds as Gillie

THINKS FOXX NOT THROUGH AS A BATTER

Mrs. Hoyle Hostess to Wawokiye Club

Trappe, Md., May 6.—(AP)—You can take it on no less authority than that of Frank (Home Run) Baker that a catcher's accountments are no encumbrance to the willow stick Jimmy Foxx wields.

The man who influenced Foxx, then a backstop for the Easton (Md.) nine managed by Baker, to sign with Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics, paused long enough yesterday in his role of "leading citizen" and asparagus grower to say:

"They say that Jimmy will begin to drop back now that he is behind the plate. All I can say is, just watch him this season. He will show them something. I have all the faith possible in his ability, whether it's behind the plate, on the bases or in the outfield."

At the moment the ex-king-of-swat was speaking his protegee had a batting average of .434 for second place in the American League, so Baker figured that "before the season is over the baseball public will realize that Jimmy is still very much in the game."

and Black Helen may give the colt more competition than any horse in the Kentucky lineup.

Most racing greyhounds weigh from 45 to 70 pounds, begin racing when two years old and are good for four or five years. They usually race at five-sixteenths of a mile, three-sixteenths, quarter-mile, and futurity (496 yards). They run the quarter-mile in around 28 seconds, and the futurity in 32 seconds.

KING GEORGE IS HUMBLE AS BRITAIN CELEBRATES

Millions of Loyal Subjects Celebrate His Silver Jubilee

(Copyright, 1935 by The Associated Press)

London, May 6—While millions of loyal subjects throughout the British empire celebrated his silver jubilee in mingled carnival and solemnity, King George V. knelt in prayers of thanksgiving today for completion of 25 years on the throne.

Both the King and Queen Mary were plainly thrilled by the nation's fervent outpouring of love and devotion as they entered St. Paul's cathedral to worship amid scenes of medieval pageantry.

Outside the ancient edifice, cheering thousands, many of whom had stood all night for the opportunity to pay tribute to their sovereign, jammed the route of the royal procession from Buckingham palace to St. Paul's.

One Untoward Incident A single untoward incident marred the triumphal march. Unfired a Communist banner was unfurled at Ludgate Circus at the moment when King George was being driven past the spot.

The temper of the crowd became threatening as the banner was let loose. Scores of young men and women, muttering their displeasure at the disrespectful act, seized the banner and ripped it into shreds.

A section of it was rescued from the mob and stored away for safe keeping until tonight when it will be placed on top of a huge bonfire in Hyde Park to be ignited when the King presides at an electric switch in Buckingham Palace.

An Ancient Ceremony The King, saluting and smiling, shared with the Queen the crowd's attention as they drove through the streets, enacted the ancient ceremony of gaining admittance to the City of London and entered St. Paul's to kneel humbly at the feet of ecclesiastics who lifted their voices in thanksgiving.

Many of those in the crowd thought they detected tears of happiness in Queen Mary's eyes as she rode beside her husband between the almost unbroken lines of cheering subjects.

Leaving the cathedral, their majesties took another route back to Buckingham Palace by way of the historic Thames, and again bowed and smiled in answer to the deafening ovations that everywhere greeted them. The ruler's rich Field Marshal's uniform and the scarlet, crimson, gold and ermine of others of the mighty concourse which filled the cathedral symbolized the pomp and power of the British Empire. But the King's face reflected humility in the sight of God.

Remained Kneeling As the Archbishop of Canterbury, clad in white and gold vestments, finished his blessing, the King remained kneeling long after others had arisen as if offering his own silent prayer.

Queen Mary, at the King's left, was a magnificent figure in silver and white. Her shoulders were wrapped in white furs while diamonds glistened in her small toque which was topped with a jaunty plume.

A fine net veil drawn over her face failed to hide the solemn reverence she obviously felt at the occasion.

Directly behind the King and Queen was the Prince of Wales and the rest of the royal family, filling eight rows of seats. At right angles was the diplomatic section, with Ambassador Robert W. Bingham representing the United States in the front row facing the last row of royal seats. Bingham was dressed in conventional evening clothes.

Extortion Target

An extortion demand for $25,000 was revealed when a fire at the Easton, Md., estate of Mrs. Glenn Stewart (above), was investigated. Mrs. Stewart, godmother of 11-year-old Gloria Vanderbilt, was mentioned in the suit over the child's custody. She has received several threatening letters. It is reported.

Peek and Hull Theories Concerning Status at Sharp Variance

Washington, May 6—(AP)—Sharp differences of opinion between President Roosevelt's two foremost advisers on foreign trade were underscored today after Geo. N. Peek had laid on the president's desk a report calling into question fundamentals underlying Secretary Hull's trade policy.

Peek did not mention Hull by name, or refer specifically to his program of negotiating give-and-take treaties with foreign lands. But he called pointedly for "a review of all national policies based in whole or in part upon our international creditor status."

Hull, like many other advocates of lowered trade barriers, has stressed America's transformation from a debtor nation to a creditor nation. Only last Thursday, he declared that American policies of raising tariffs in post-war days "were not consistent with our newly achieved creditor position."

His study sought to show that at the end of 1934 the United States was a "book creditor" to the extent of $16,897,000,000. But, he said, our status as a creditor "appears to depend upon the value of our direct investments in foreign countries and that of the war debts."

War debts comprised $10,304,000,000 of the $16,897,000,000 owed the United States, he said, and the present value of these debts, "with the exception of the Republic of Finland, cannot be estimated."

"Obsolete Figures" A second item stressed as doubtful was $7,823,000,000 of direct United States investments abroad. Peek called these figures "obsolete." He quoted the Department of Commerce as saying in 1933 that it was probable the recorded values of direct American investments abroad "will have to be reduced."

Explaining other figures in his report, Peek said foreign countries "had several hundred million dollars in this country last year which might have been used to buy merchandise, or services, or be applied on the war debts. Instead, the money was used to buy securities."

diseases probably arises out of our experience with gout. In this condition the dietary factor is so prominent that of necessity it stands out in the memory of imagination of all joint disease sufferers. The fact of the matter is, however, that gout nowadays is comparatively rare, and very few of the joint disease conditions are of this nature.

We must realize that arthritis is a term indicating a common set of symptoms which may be due to a multitude of causes.

In arthritis we have a disease condition of the joint, but the disease may be due to injury; it may be due to specific germ infections; it may be due to nerve disturbances. The arthritides may further be incidental to mental diseases.

Needless to say, one would be foolish to undertake the treatment of every arthritis on a dietetic basis without first seeking to discover what its specific cause is.

No scientific dietetic treatment of arthritis can be instituted without first determining the nature of the arthritis, and without first instituting a routine of treatment which will be based on "cause."

In addition to the various types of arthritis classified according to cause, there are those which are of unknown or uncertain origin.

These include the greatest number of instances met with in common practice. Diet, in relation to these, will be considered in the next column.

The DARK BLOND

A CARLETON KENDRAKE © 1935 NEA SERVICE INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY MILICENT GRAVES, secretary to GEORGE DRINGOLD, ends her employer in his office dead. JARVIS HAPP, a stranger, offers to help her. He sends her to a beauty shop where she is transformed into a brunette, then takes her home, introducing her as his secretary. She meets MRS. HAPP, HARRY HAPP, his stepson, ROBERT CAINE, HARRY's partner, DICK GENTRY, VERA DUCHENE, Mrs. HARRY's maid.

In HARRY's home Millicent sees the mysterious "woman in black ermine" whom she believes has some connection with Dringold's death. The chauffeur is found dead. Later HARRY is kidnapped. Millicent and Norman learn the car driven by the woman in ermine belongs to PHYLLIS FAULCONER. They go to her apartment. Norman enters first. When he does not return Millicent follows. The place is in wild disorder and Norman is not to sight. A policeman arrives. Millicent escapes.

She goes to the nearby garage where DETECTIVE BUCHANAN accuses her of being PHYLLIS FAULCONER. He calls a tenant of the apartment building to identify her. It proves to be the policeman. Norman enters first. When he does not return Millicent follows. The place is in wild disorder and Norman is not to sight. A policeman arrives. Millicent escapes.

Now GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XLVI DETECTIVE BUCHANAN asked "Is this the lane?"

Johansen's eyes, which had riveted themselves on Millicent, said "You bet that's the lane. She ran like a deer when I fell for the line she handed me. You sure showed brains in putting the bracelets on her. She's got the smoothest line of any crook I've tackled in a year."

"Is that PHYLLIS FAULCONER?" Buchanan asked. "You bet that's PHYLLIS FAULCONER. She was in the apartment and she admitted to me she was there when the fighting was going on. I telephoned headquarters when she made a break."

"Yes," Buchanan said. "I telephoned in and they told me you'd reported trouble in that apartment so I figured you'd better come around to make positive identification."

"She was handing you a line?" Buchanan asked. "I'll say she was handing me a line."

Millicent sat speechless. There was nothing she could say. She was trapped in the web of her own incriminating statements to Johansen, her equally incriminating flight.

A siren sounded outside the door. "Well," Buchanan remarked, shaking ashes from his cigar, "that will be the wagon from headquarters. Come on, sister. Here we go."

The siren grew louder. Tires screamed on the turn and then a red roadster skidded into the garage and slid to a stop.

Sergeant Mahoney jumped from the car, banged open the door of the office, looked at Buchanan, then at Millicent.

"Unsnap those handcuffs," he said. Buchanan's face turned a dull red. "Listen, Sergeant, she's a killer and she's desperate. She's PHYLLIS FAULCONER all right. I trapped her when she came to the car."

"Unsnap the handcuffs," Sergeant Mahoney said. "I don't like to see her handcuffed in the first place, and in the second place I don't think she's PHYLLIS FAULCONER."

"She's the Faulconer woman all right," Johansen said. "I came on her in the apartment."

ILLINOIS' OLD AGE PENSIONS BILL WRITTEN Embodies Best Features of Seven Bills Now in Discard

Springfield, Ill., May 6.—(AP)—With no provisions for its financing a new old age pension bill has been placed before the legislature and the seven bills introduced earlier discarded.

The measure, comprising some of the features of the previous bills, provides for a maximum old age relief of one dollar a day. This provision, it is said, would place Illinois at the top of the list of states granting old age pensions, 32 states averaging $19.50 a month.

The bill, if enacted into law, will become effective January 1, 1936, and is sponsored by Representatives A. J. Prignano, Democrat of Chicago, Thomas J. Lenane, Quincy Democrat and Dennis Collins, DeKalb Republican.

The compromise measure resulted when consideration of the previous bills led to the decision of the house industrial affairs committee that a sound plan could best be formed through one bill.

Financing Difficult

Believing a pension plan would be difficult to finance, the committee decided that while the bill is on second reading Governor Horner will be consulted on provisions for revenue and the bill amended accordingly.

The bill was made to conform with federal requirements with the understanding that the government may pay one-half of old age relief up to the amount of $15 a month.

Administration of the pension is centralized in the Department of Public Welfare. Acting as agent for the department would be an old age security board in each county, to serve without pay.

When a person applies for aid, the board would make the necessary investigations, report to the state department and fix the award.

Applicant Could Appeal

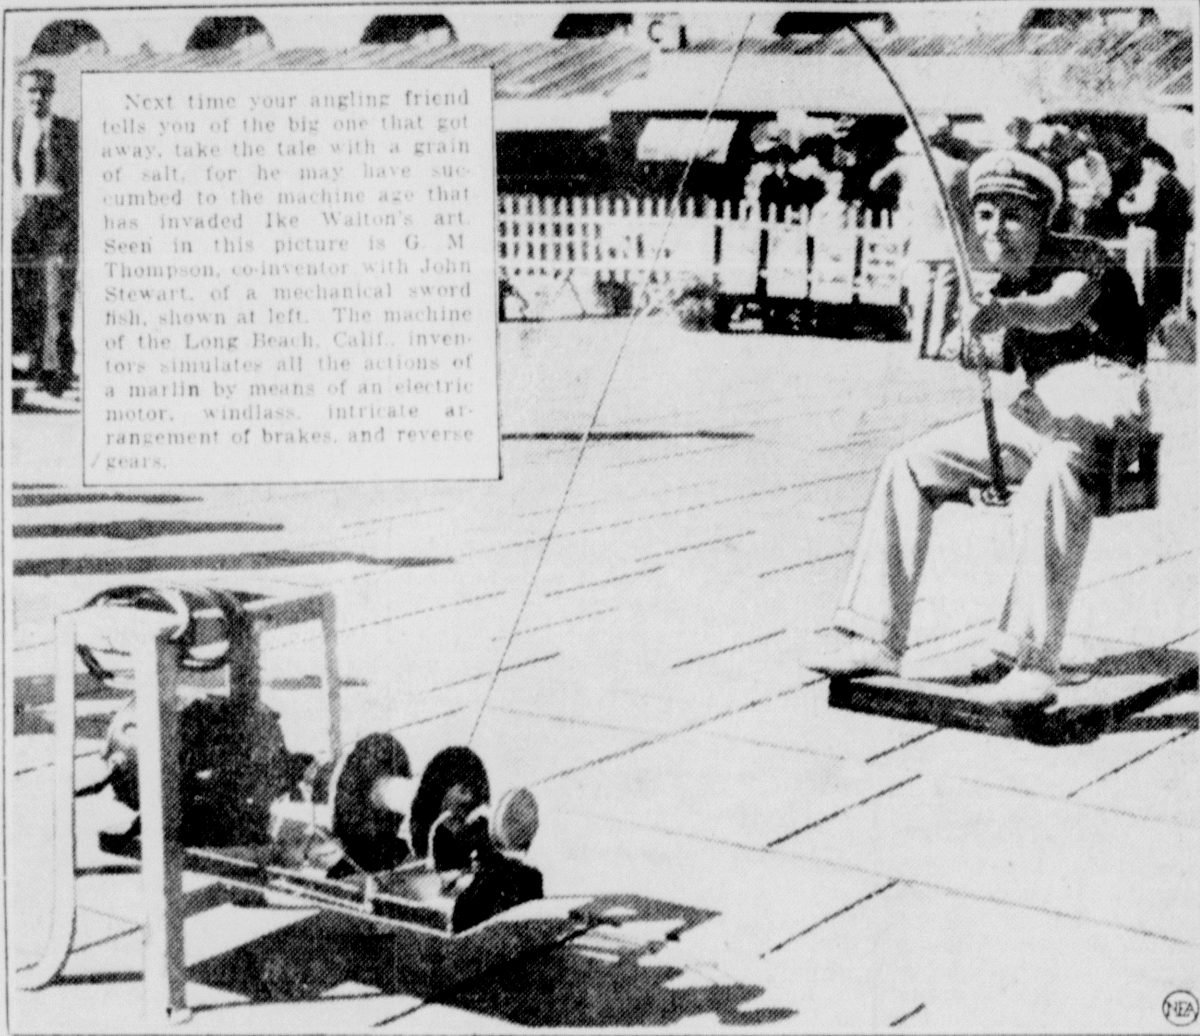

The department would have the right to make its own investigation and review decisions of the board. A claimant for aid could appeal to the department when the board failed to act upon an application within 30 days, denied a grant or made an award believed inadequate.

If a person fraudulently attempted to or did obtain old age relief, or aided another in obtaining money to which he would not be entitled, he would be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a $500 fine imprisonment of three months, or both.

An applicant for the pension would have to meet requirements as follows:

- Requirements Listed
1. Be at least 65 years old.
 2. Be a citizen of the U. S. and a resident of Illinois for 10 of the 15 years prior to making the claim.
 3. Be a resident of the county in which application is made.
 4. Not be an inmate of any municipal, county, state or national institution.
 5. Not make a voluntary assignment or transfer of property to qualify for relief.
 6. The cash value of property owned not to exceed $5,000.
 7. The net income from outside sources not to exceed $5 a week, and the net income added to the relief paid not to exceed $550 a year.

SOUND CALL TO PUSH AVIATION

International Lines Believed Partial Solution

That America should assume and retain leadership in the air was the opinion expressed by Senator W. G. McAdoo, President of the National Aeronautic Association, Friday eve, in a nation-wide broadcast over the Columbia System. To achieve leadership, the Senator believes it is necessary that our government pursue a liberal policy with respect to the extension of international lines and that we educate our people to the benefits of this limitless field of exploration and headful adventure. "American genius developed the airplane," said the senator, "and we must take immediate steps to utilize its tremendous possibilities in expanding our foreign commerce and in preparing a most vital element in our national defense."

He stated that in the international race to secure dominance of the air commerce in Mexico, Central America and in South America, the United States holds the key position for the moment. American air transport companies have operated in these countries for the past seven years and a strong foothold has been secured, but heavy subsidies granted to competing foreign lines constitute a definite threat to our continued leadership. In China, extensive airline systems, equipped with American planes and engines, and flown by American pilots, now operate for 1000 miles westward along the Yangtze valley and north 2000 miles along the China coast from Canton to Shanghai and Peking.

Look on China

"The European governments," said Senator McAdoo, "look with hungry eyes to China where the needs of its teeming millions pre-ent perhaps the greatest trade opportunity in the world today. The United States holds the key to this market if our people have the vision to seize the opportunity now presented to them."

Mr. McAdoo referred to the projected airline to the Philippines and said, "if the efforts now being made are successful to establish a commercial airline over the vast waters of the Pacific, a distance of about 8000 miles, we shall have the greatest over-water system of airways in the world and it will be under the American flag because that flag floats over every island which constitutes the necessary stepping stones or stopping places for flying across the great Pacific."

"Air transportation is in its infancy, its perfection will mean a vast economic gain while at the same time it will provide us the trained reserve personnel and efficient industrial organization to meet any problem of national defense which may confront us in the future." He expressed the opinion that air transport will be the means of knitting our country more closely together, it will provide the means of speeding up our commercial transactions and its superior advantages in facilitating the distribution of essential food products is just beginning to be realized. However, we must face and solve our immediate problem of increasing the present scant patronage of our air lines so that our magnificent air transport service may do the job for which it was organized.

"We should encourage the study of aviation, the practice of aviation, and gratify the eager imagination and desire of the young people of our country to engage in this new and marvelous field for thrilling achievement. We should not let a great discovery of such actual and potential value to mankind go unused, when its full development would play an immensely important part in the restoration of prosperity and economic comfort."

Senator McAdoo, in the course of his address, described his recent 8000 mile flight from Java to Rome, by way of Singapore and the Holy Land, at the conclusion of his tour of the Philippines as a member of the Senate committee on Insular affairs.

TWO HURLERS IN LIMELIGHT MAJOR LOOPS

Blanton, Whitehead Show Way For Veterans

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr. (Associated Press Sports Writer)

The race for early season pitching honors in the big leagues this season seems to have developed into a two-man affair between Darrell (Cy) Blanton of Pittsburgh, who hurled only one major league game before this spring and John Whitehead of the Chicago White Sox, who never toiled in the big time before.

Rated as a pair of the most versatile young hurlers to come up to the majors in years, they have out-distanced all the veteran mounds-men to run up four victories each without a defeat while no other hurler had won more than three.

Experts who have seen them agree that they won't turn out to be flashes in their respective pans as both can deliver almost every kind of pitch and don't have to rely upon speed or strength to get by.

Blanton baffled the Brooklyn batters Saturday to win his fourth straight decision. Not to be outdone, Whitehead came through with No. 4 yesterday against Washington, winning 4 to 0 with a superb four-hit performance.

Recording his first shutout, Whitehead came close to pitching the pale hose right into the American League lead. By one method of reckoning the victory put him a half game ahead of the Cleveland Indians, who were kept idle by rain along with five other American League clubs. The percentages, however, favor Cleveland, .750 to .733.

All Singles

All four blows of Whitehead were singles and the only time the Senators could pair two a double play cut off their scoring chance. The Sox held to six hits, got a run in the first on Ray Radcliff's triple and an infield out and three more in the second on a pass to Luke Appling and base hits by Jimmy Dykes, Luke Sewell and Jack Hayes.

The league-leading Giants continued to cop the National League headlines by their policy "if you can't win them, don't lose them." For the third time this season they failed to win or lose, winding up in a 2-2 draw with Cincinnati when rain which had fallen all through the game became heavy enough to stop action after the tenth inning. Hal Schumacher, who never had lost to the Reds, and Paul Derringer, a three-game winner this year, waged a mound duel punctuated by Mel Ott's seventh home run of the season and one by Chick Hafe.

The Chicago Cubs, rained out at Philadelphia, moved into second place when the Pirates hammered out a 9 to 2 victory over Brooklyn for Guy Bush, who came back from his recent suspension to score his first Pittsburgh victory. Arky Vaughan started the scoring with Chicago, Ill., May 6.—(Special)—The selection of two drivers to face Maynard Clark, Iowa speed star, in a three-cornered, three heat, invitational match auto race here, May 12, will be made by the stewards of the meeting during the coming week.

The match event will be an added feature on the AAA sanctioned auto race program to be run in conjunction with the other mid-western AAA sectional championship circuit point events.

Upon the closing of the official entry list, the steward will undertake to select two drivers to battle Clark for the supremacy of the local speedway at River road and North Avenue which will officially open on Sunday, May 12 for the year.

Among some of the prominent racers being considered in the invitation event are Emil Andres and Jimmy Snyder, Chicago; Everett Saylor, Dayton; Johnny Sawyer, Milwaukee and Ted Horn, California. Others may become eligible when the lists finally close.

The entry list for the opening day's events include nearly a score of the leading drivers of the circuit.

England has nearly twice as many motor vehicles to a mile of road as the United States, and from four to seven times as many as other European countries.
